

Grand Rivers Kayaking Tour – Intermediate

Is It For Me?

This course is geared for the paddler who is looking to get as many rivers paddled as possible in a week, exploring the best that the Scottish highland has on offer. The emphasis is a bit more on guiding and river running as opposed to coaching, this allows us to maximize our time paddling rivers. To get the most out of this course then you should be very comfortable on Grade 2 and have some experience of Grade 3, ideally a minimum of about ten days paddling at these grades. To have a reliable roll is not essential on this course, it will of course help, however we will be able to help you with your roll during the week. So if you want a week with plenty of Grade 3 and are keen to explore the best of Scottish paddling, then this is the course for you.

Aim

This course will provide the paddler with plenty of experience of paddling a variety of Grade 2/3 rivers, and harder if appropriate, all over the Scottish highlands. In addition to this the week will focus on safe river running strategies, white water safety and rescue and get in plenty of mileage on intermediate white water.

Course Content

You will usually be in a group of no more than six with one instructor. Meeting your instructor on the first morning provides an opportunity to discuss people's experience and aspirations, which along with the weather forecast and water levels will enable us to plan the weeks' activity with you.

Day one we will help you sorting out any boats or paddling gear you need to borrow from us, and then we will head off to a classic local river. This could well be a section of the Spey or Findhorn that will give a good Grade 2/3 warm up day and enable us to introduce some safe river running and safety and rescue themes. For the rest of the week we will paddle the rivers that offer us the best water and are at the appropriate grade for the groups needs. This will take us all over the Scottish Highlands, we will usually spend a couple of nights in comfortable accommodation on the west coast during the week. This saves too much daily driving and allows us to explore West coast as well as East coast highland rivers. This will include plenty of rivers with Grade 3 and could include the following: Roy, Findhorn, Orchy, Awe, Garry and Spean. Although the week is about paddling lots of rivers and will focused on river running, our coaches will always be happy to help develop your paddling skills as well!

Glenmore Lodge has a purpose made kayak rolling pool, this will be available for use every evening, so if your roll is needing sharpening up we can help you with this. In addition to this you will benefit from your instructors wealth of knowledge of additional white water paddling venues around the UK, and more than likely the rest of the world!! Stories will be told and hopefully you will leave inspired and with knowledge to confidently take your paddling to other parts of the UK and rest of the world.

The Accommodation

You will be staying at Glenmore Lodge for most of the week but may head west to Inchree for a couple of nights. Please ensure that you bring a towel as these are not supplied at Inchree.
