

Introduction To Open Canoeing – Two Days

Is It For Me?

This two day course is aimed at anybody who is keen to develop the skills to canoe rivers and lochs. To get the most out of this course then you should be water confident, but there is no requirement to have been in a canoe before. As part of the learning process getting wet and capsizing is possible, so come prepared for a bit of getting a bit wet as well as having a lot of fun and learning. So if you want two days with plenty of opportunity to learn to paddle a canoe and develop skills to have confidence to journey on moving water and lochs, then this is the course for you.

Aim

This course will provide the canoeist with experience of paddling grade 1 or 2 rivers and lochs. In addition to this the two days will focus on safety and rescue, journeying skills and canoe specific skills, as well as of course developing your personal paddling skills for moving water and open lochs. Getting solid canoeing foundation skills from our top coaches will ensure a lifetime of canoe adventures, there is no better way to start.

Course Content

You will usually be in a group of no more than six with one instructor. Meeting your instructor on the first morning provides an opportunity to discuss people's experience and aspirations, which along with the weather forecast and water levels will enable us to plan the two days' activity with you.

On the first day we will help you sorting out any boats or paddling gear you need to borrow from us. Then we will make use of our local loch or Grade 1 river section to start learning the essential skills and develop your confidence in the environment. For the rest of the time we will paddle the rivers and lochs that offer us the best water and conditions that are appropriate for the groups needs. This will include rivers with Grade 1 and 2, as well as lochs in hopefully calm and windier conditions! The two days could involve the following rivers: Spey, Ness, Tay and Avon, or the following lochs: Ness, Insh and Morlich.

Whilst on these rivers and lochs we will be able to spend time coaching and developing your personal paddling, there may be an opportunity for video coaching as well. In addition to this we will be looking at developing your safe journeying skills to help you leave the course feeling confident to safely paddle in a similar environment with friends. As part of this safety and rescue is essential, there will be an opportunity to look at a variety of aspects of this during the two days as well, as is needed.

In addition to this you will benefit from your instructors wealth of knowledge of additional canoe paddling venues around the UK, and more than likely the rest of the world!! Stories will be told and hopefully you will leave inspired and with knowledge to confidently take your paddling to other parts of the UK and rest of the world.
